Animal Control Rule

Effective September 10, 2018

All animals shall be restrained under the immediate control of the owner or responsible person, while at the shotgun range when other range users are present. Restrained shall mean the animal must be controlled by one of the following methods:

- In a secure enclosure
- Inside a vehicle with proper ventilation
- Tethered on a lead no greater than eight feet in length away from range user activities
- Be on a leash no greater than eight feet in length accompanied by a person able to control the animal

The owner or responsible person shall ensure the animal's well being at all times.
